Women’s training session in Ethiopia

WEEKLY SPOTLIGHT: Building Women’s Capacity in Ethiopia

4R Solution Project Building Women’s Confidence

The 4R project has worked to build the capacity of rural women in Ethiopia. Those who received training reported that they had much more confidence to communicate and negotiate after training. This was an expected outcome for women who attended training in leadership skills, financial literacy, and business skills. But women members who reported that their co-operative improved their agricultural skills were also significantly more likely to report that they had increased confidence. This suggests that a wide range of training can build women’s skills and confidence.

In Ethiopia, the 4R Solution project has provided business and leadership training for more than 300 members of Rural Commercial Women’s Groups and 4R agricultural training for more than 500 women farmers.
